REPUBLICANS AT THE LIHUE HALL

The candidates for nomination on the Republican ticket for the Legislature appeared before a mixed audience in Lihue Social hall Friday evening. H. D. Wishard, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, presided and A. G. Kaulukou officiated as interpreter. An orchestra of Hawaiian musicians supplied the usual essential in the intermissions. In his opening remarks Chairman Wishard stated that each speaker would be limited to fifteen minutes, after which he introduced Chas. H. Wilcox, candidate for the House.

Mr. Wilcox stated that he was not a public speaker. He was a candidate for the House of Representatives in response to a sense of duty as a good citizen. He had no bones to pick in the Legislature; no axes to grind. He wanted to go there to see that the money of the people would be expended in the proper way. Mr. Hughes states that he is not looking for a political future. The speaker was also not seeking political advantage. Mr. Wilcox called attention to the other candidates seeking votes at the primary, and dwelt particularly upon the long and splendid record of J. H. Coney in the Legislature—concluding this part of his speech by saying that if the audience voted for him (Wilcox) he would also prefer that they vote for Coney. From that point he made an appeal to the effect that no small or personal grudge be permitted to influence voters. The Democratic candidates were nominated already. They had no opposition. With the Republicans there were more candidates than places to be filled, in consequence of which they were fighting between themselves. He requested his hearers to vote Republican in the primary, and if any were Democrats (Continued on Page 3).

Forbes Coming Over

Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, will probably arrive on Kauai tomorrow on an important mission. He will investigate such road, wharf and other matters as come under his department for the purpose of submitting recommendations to the governor who, in turn, will pass them onto the legislature in February.

Makaweli Baseball

In the baseball game at Makaweli Sunday afternoon the third battalion was represented by Company I and the first battalion by Company B. The former won, the score being 8 to 5.

JAPANESE CONSUL AND KAUAI LABOR

Upon his return to Honolulu Japanese Consul Mori gave to the press the following highly interesting opinions concerning Japanese labor conditions on this island:

"I have spent 12 days on Kauai and during that time I met more than 5000 Japanese men and women and also their children. This was my first visit to that island. I inspected every plantation where our people are employed. I am more than satisfied with conditions on the plantations. The laborers are also pleased with their treatment. I have heard often about the bonus question since I have been here, but there was no talk about the system on Kauai. The laborers did not make any complaint to me.

Kauai At San Diego

Reports coming from the exposition at San Diego have never been very complimentary as to the showing being made by this Territory. The following is an extract from a letter of a Kauai man, just received: "We took in the San Diego fair with its wonderful Hawaiian school exhibit, showing one of Prof. Brodie's wonderful open-air school buildings, filled with Japanese baby dolls. The Hawaiian exhibit contained also one broken and discarded outrigger canoe and a grass skirt."

Kauai Registration

County Clerk J. M. Kaneakua kept his office open until 12 o'clock last Tuesday night for the registration of voters. At the close 1358 names were on the great register. In the last election a little more than 1,100 voted, out of a total of 1,250. Eliminating known absentees, etc., it is figured that the actual vote in the primary will be around 1,100.

ARMY OFFICERS COMING TO KAUAI

General Robert K. Evans, commander of the Department of Hawaii, U. S. Army, will arrive on Kauai tomorrow morning and will remain here until Saturday. He will be accompanied by his aide de camp, Lieut. Hornsby Evans, and by Major Chas. S. Lincoln.

It is stated that the trip is merely for pleasure, but it is understood that the General would like to see a few of the Kauai companies at drill and meet the officers.

Information in hand does not make it clear as to whether the party will land at Nawiliwili or go on to Waimea. It is assumed, however, that Nawiliwili will be the place, particularly as Colonel Broadbent will be a passenger from Honolulu by the same boat.

Some function will most likely be arranged for the commanding general, but just what, when or where will not be decided until Colonel Broadbent returns tomorrow.

General Johnson was detained at Honolulu on other matters and could not accompany the party.

Under the heading "General Evans will inspect Kauai militia" the Advertiser of Monday morning said:

To look over the Island of Kauai from a military standpoint, Brig-Gen. Robert K. Evans, commanding the Hawaiian department, together with Capt. Hornsby Evans, aide, and Maj. Charles S. Lincoln, in charge of militia affairs, will leave tomorrow for practically a week's stay.

This will be General Evans' first trip to the Garden Island. Major Lincoln who has been twice on Kauai before, will play the part of guide to a certain extent.

It is probable that the officers will be entertained during the week's visit by officers of the Kauai guard regiment, the Fourth Infantry.

Lihue Union Church

"A good choir, a good audience and a fine sermon" this was the intelligent comment of a leading member of the community at the close of the service on Sunday; to which he might have added "beautiful decorations".

Great interest and efficiency have been developed in the choir of late, thanks largely to some very valuable new additions and it is understood that some most enjoyable surprises are being planned for the future. The church draws from a wide constituency, one party coming all the way from Elele.

Credit To Mr. Lydgate

The last annual report of the Bishop museum gives credit to Mr. J. M. Lydgate for the discovery of several new plants in the high mountains of Kauai some of which have been given his name. The mountains of these Islands have been so diligently, and so systematically searched for so many years, that it takes a very keen eye and very patient endeavor to find anything new in the plant line.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED

The following sailed by the Kinohau Saturday afternoon for Honolulu: G. H. Trulock, E. Kopke, A. S. Bush, S. Sayegusa, Mrs. K. Ferrera, Mrs. Lydia Ellis, Y. Suga, S. Kuba, J. B. Kanamu, Mrs. Kanamu, Miss A. Pimoku, Mrs. Hart, I. Scharlin, Henry Awa, A. C. Bracey, James Dyson, A. C. Cotchett, Miss Kamakawiwale, M. M. Graham, M. Rohd, W. V. Hardy, Mrs. Hardy and forty-nine deck.

A PICNIC PARTY AT KOLOA BEACH

Mrs. G. F. Rankin and a number of Makaweli girls were hostesses last Friday evening at a very enjoyable picnic, given at the new Knudsen beach house at Koloa.

The party assembled late in the afternoon, in time for a refreshing swim, before sitting down to a very delicious chowder supper. A quintet furnished music for dancing during the evening.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Rankin, Misses Etta Lee, Thompson, Marie Anderson, G. Nelson, Williams and Leona Johnson, Messrs. Smith, Carden, Morrow, Lyman, Cooper, McBoyle, Vincent, Patterson and Deverill.

SCHOOL COTTAGE GETS A SOAKING

It is not often that it rains at Elele, but when it does the rain is very wet. The school cottage roofs there are evidently constructed on the open-work, flour-sieve plan which is admirable for ventilation but very defective for keeping the rain out.

A few days ago found the cottagers in a state of topsy-turvy chaos, in the vain endeavor to gather things together in a dry spot. There were lakes on the floor, and ponds in the chairs; the rugs were rolled up into dykes to restrain the advancing floods, and the only safe place was the dining table where one perched high and dry with an umbrella overhead, like Noah's ark on Mount Ararat.

Despite the inconvenience and discomfort the teachers took the experience with a pleasant, smiling equanimity, as all in the day's work in a semi-civilized country like Hawaii.

Dance At Elele

A number of Elele people enjoyed a dance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Silva on Monday evening, September 25. The pianola furnished music for the dancing until a late hour when ice-cream and cake were served. All the guests reported a pleasant party.

Mr. and Mrs. James Clapper, living at Grove Farm, gave a dance Saturday evening which was attended by a large number of their friends.

TODAY'S AND LATEST NEWS BY WIRELESS

Sugar, 5.99.

Honolulu—The strike deadlock is likely to break inside of a few hours. While developments on the surface are unimportant, shipping men are expecting to act. Stevedores appeal to the coast for help. They have also sent word to Australia that certain cargoes were unloaded here in an unfair manner.

Important steps have been taken for frontage tax improvements, the supervisors opening the way for general development under the law, the object being to make Honolulu beautiful. A few of the projects are now under way, with others to be started.

A company on Hawaii is to have great tractor batteries. Caterpillars will draw entire regiment of 24 field pieces. The new organization is the first of its kind. Sixteen inch field guns are planned in connection with mid-Pacific defense.

Local stocks rule firm although the market is slow.

Sweden Angry At Britain

London—The British blockade has aroused Sweden, and relations between the two countries appear to be drifting toward a diplomatic break on account of it.

Wilson's Plan About Complete

Long Branch—President Wilson's plans are almost complete. Henry Ford and Secretary McAdoo took lunch with him yesterday at the summer white house.

CANDIDATES IN FIELD FOR VOTES

All of the candidates for nomination on the Republican ticket took a whirl last week through the towns on the Hanalei side of the island and were everywhere received with enthusiasm, and promised support. In the party were: J. H. Coney, and Isaac Kani, candidates for the Senate; house candidates C. H. Wilcox, James K. Kula, J. K. Lota, J. C. Jerves, Kuapuhii and Kanealii. A. G. Kaulukou was official interpreter.

On Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock a meeting was held at Wainiha, at which all of the candidates made brief announcements. At 7 o'clock that evening a meeting was held in the old Hawaiian church at Hanalei. At 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon a meeting was held at Mahikoa's place in Kalihiwai and that evening at 7 o'clock the speech-making was in front of the store in Kilauea. Wednesday evening a rousing meeting was held in Kapaa, and Friday night the big meeting in Lihue, reported elsewhere.

A feature of the tour was that the very best of feeling prevailed among the candidates, although some of those for the house are competitors for nomination in the primary.

A New Physician

It is understood that Dr. Jay M. Kuhns, at present resident physician of the Queen's hospital, Honolulu, will take the place in the Kawaihau district made vacant by the departure of Dr. Hoffmann for Pabala, Hawaii.

The Final Meetings

The Republican spell-binders appeared before an audience at Kekaha last night and tonight will speak at Wainiha. The program for later evenings will be as follows: Wednesday, Makaweli; Thursday, Elele; Friday, Kalahoe. That will end the primary campaign.

Jos. Gomez, proprietor of the Hanapepe Store, returned in the Kinohau Wednesday morning after making the round trip to San Francisco in the Wilhelmina. It was his first trip to the coast and he found San Francisco too big to his liking, preferring Oakland which proved nearer the size of Hanapepe.

H. Rohrig, manager of Lihue store, was the first delegate home from the Civic Convention in Hilo, he arriving Wednesday morning.

COMPLIMENT TO HARRY VINCENT

Most pretty and effective table decorations were noticeable at a poi supper given by Miss Lulu Weber at her home last Wednesday evening in honor of Harry Vincent. On an almost solid bed of asparagus fern, beautiful lilies were strewn, with here and there large bowls of marguerites and lilies, very pleasingly arranged. Hawaiian leis with place cards attached were found at each seat around the long table.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Grote, Mr. and Mrs. Weber, Misses Elsie and Mable Wilcox, Juanita Speckens, Lottie Jordan; Messrs. Vincent, Bracey, Deverill, Horner, Carden and Morrow.

Dancing and musical selections wound up a very delightful evening for all.

Coming Church Function

The members of the congregation of the Elele protestant church effort are planning an affair to take place at the residence of Captain and Mrs. Leavitt, Port Allen, in the near future.

Meeting Postponed

The meeting of the Mokihana club scheduled for September 4 has been postponed to the 11th., at which time an address will be given by Dr. Williams.

Saturday's Election

The primary election on Saturday next will take place between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. All of the preparations for it, save for minor details, are now complete and the indications are that the vote will be quite large.

Married

WONG-CHANG—In Honolulu, September 25, 1916, Samuel Achuck Wong and Miss Alice Ai Chang, (formerly teacher at Lihue), James A. Rath, head worker of the Palama Settlement, officiating; witnesses James W. Achuck and Miss Elsie Wong.

Although slight complications have developed in the past few days, Mr. R. L. Hughes, Elele, is getting along quite well and will probably soon be out again.
